

Do you want to help end domestic violence and sexual assault in your community?

Come learn more about the work of First Step and how you can get involved by attending one of the Agency Orientation Sessions.

At the session you will learn about our mission, vision, strategic priorities and services. Most importantly you will learn how you can be the change you want to see in the world.

We are looking for help with our Assault Response Project, working with children, assisting survivors while they navigate the legal system, with raising money, garnering resources to meet our client’s needs, and simply ensuring the communities we serve are aware of our services and how to refer survivors for assistance.
